

JIANG WENJIE

Erasmus School of Economics | Email:w.j.jiang@ese.eur.nl

EDUCATION

Erausmus University Rotterdam PhD position in Behavioural Economics (TI affiliated) Supervisor: Sophie van der Zee & Georg Granic & Jana Cahlíková	From 09.2025 Rotterdam
Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München, Munich, Germany Master in Quantitative Economics; Fast Track Elite Program Supervisor: Matthias Lang & Valeria Burdea	04.2023-08.2025 Munich
Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München, Munich, Germany MSc Economics Grade: 1.07	10.2022-02.2023 Munich
University of Zürich, Zürich, Switzerland Zurich Graduate School of Economics; Swiss-European Mobility Program (Exchange Semester)	08.2023-02.2024 Zürich

RESEARCH

Research Interests

Moral decision-making, Complexity, Mental Model

Master Thesis

How does uncertainty impact moral decision? Supervisor: Tilman Fries

Luca Henkel, ESE 12.2025-02.2026
Research Evaluator in Rotterdam

- Completed training on a proprietary paper evaluation tool designed to systematically assess experimental design features and methodological rigor.
- Evaluated 25 published experimental economics papers, following standardized guidelines

Chair for Behavioral and Experimental Economics, LMU 06.2023-09.2024
Research Assistant in Munich

- Collected and coded the latest papers on the behavioral topic “loss aversion”, ran data & regression analysis in Stata with fixed effects
- Incorporated ChatGPT API codes in Python to simulate Buyer-Seller decisions
- Developed a random utility choice model for consumer choice data and conducted structural estimation using the collected data

Valeria Burdea, LMU 02.2025-05.2025
Research Project in Munich

- Conducted an in-depth theoretical analysis of conflict of interest in expert advice under varying disclosure protocols. Derived and characterized equilibrium strategies for repeated and one-shot interactions

Work in Progress

Complexity across Domain: Stability of Types in Risk and Intertemporal Choice
Payoff Uncertainty, Partial Observability and Lying

TEACHING & PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITY

Department of Applied Economics, ESE 2026 10.2025-2026

- Applied Behavioral Economics, Master Seminar
- Master Thesis, Behavioral Economics
- Bachelor Thesis, Strategy Economics
- Bachelor Internship Supervision (Upcoming)

Faculty of Economics, LMU 10.2024-02.2025

Teaching Assistant, Microeconomics 1 in Munich

- Responsible for leading tutorials for the Microeconomics 1 course, providing students with weekly exercises and explaining solutions in class. In charge of designing quizzes for group exercises and grading the submissions.

Matthias Lang, LMU 10.2024-02.2025

Teaching Assistant, Virtual Journal Club in Munich

- Led breakout rooms during weekly online meetings, facilitated student discussions on papers and books. Guided students in academic writing under the supervision of Prof. Matthias Lang and Prof. Karen Bernhardt-Walther.

Organizer, BOM PhD Reading Group 10.2025-2026

- Initiated and organized regular BOM PhD Reading Group, fostering research discussions among PhD students and faculty.

WORKSHOP & SUMMER SCHOOL

2nd Behavioral and Experimental Summer School, Crete

Spring School on Experimental Research on Moral Judgement & (Un)Ethical Behavior

Peternalistic workshop on Decision Theory, Rotterdam

3rd EER Behavioral and Experimental Summer School, Lisbon (poster presentation)

Summer School RISLab on Cognitive Economics, Ghent (with presentation)

Workshop on Cognitive Economics, Herrsching am Ammersee (upcoming)

Summer School on Normative Arguments and Practical Implications, Wittenberg (upcoming)

COMPUTER SKILLS

PYTHON, MATLAB, STATA

Proficient

Several projects in coding and frequent applications